Employee Spotlight of the Month

Adrian Romero, a more recent addition to our Villas family, has been a source of warmth and companionship for our residents. Growing up in Tucson, he had aspirations of a career in law enforcement, but a pivotal moment came when he cared for his father during his final year. This experience led him to a profound shift toward a career in compassion. Adrian finds immense joy in the simple pleasures he shares with our residents. From watching movies together to playing dominoes, and most notably, performing card tricks that never fail to bring laughter and entertainment.

At home, Adrian's heart is filled with love and happiness, surrounded by his family of ten children and twenty grandchildren. He cherishes the moments they spend together, creating quality time that brings joy. As Adrian contemplates the future, he dreams of winning the lottery and retiring. However, until that moment arrives, he finds magic in every smile here in the neighborhood, spreading happiness wherever he goes.

Led by Strength and the Love of Family

Villas resident, Mildred Allonby, fondly remembers riding the trolley into town, shopping with siblings, and watching Gone with the Wind during her childhood. Mildred was raised in a hardworking family. Her grandfather was a coal miner, her grandmother a seamstress, her father was a home builder, and the women in the family raised chickens and ensured that the home was warm with love. Mildred learned resilience early on from them all.

As a child, Mildred playfully got the attention of the young boy Wayne, who lived across the street by throwing rocks at his bicycle. Years later, that childhood friendship bloomed into marriage, and they wed in Biloxi before he enlisted in the Air Force. Together, they raised four strong-willed children—son Guy and daughters Darcy, Lynn, and Shari, each with their own passions. Mildred once worked as the lead cook at Furr's Cafeteria and has shared her home with many beloved pets over the years. Now, surrounded by friends at The Villas, she cherishes family visits, laughter, and the pride of a life well-lived.
